Campus Events

Homecoming weekend on November 15 and 16 will again feature time trials for those prepared to go into a spin around the Ring Road. The race for the Chancellor's Trophy, open to all comers, will be held Friday at 12:15. Races will follow Saturday for the President's Trophy (12:15) and the Alumni Trophy (2:00 p.m.). Further details are promised from the alumni office. Special sports events on Saturday include a soccer game at 2:30 and basketball in the gym at 7:00 p.m. Topping it all off will be a Casino night in the SUB, starting at 8:30 p.m.

Faculty and students will join voices November 12 to present Morality as Wit, an anthology of maxims, memoirs, and other writings from the era of Louis XIV. The readings will be presented in MAC 144 at 8:00 p.m., as part of the evening division series on the age of composer Francois Couperin. Admission is $1.50 (students, 75 cents). Among those to be involved, under the direction of MRS. JANE BENSON (theatre), are CARL HARE and RICHARD COURTNEY (theatre) and DR. ANTHONY JENKINS (English). Messrs. Hare and Jenkins are now nearing the end of their run in the Phoenix Theatre production of Measure for Measure.

Faculty/Staff News

A new position is opening in the important field of continuing education, linking current activities through the evening division and summer session. An assistant to the directors of both programs will be expected to deal with the public and representatives of business, industry, and government, for the development of programs geared to community interest and professional advancement. Applications are invited from staff-members holding at least a bachelor's degree, with related experience and some knowledge of preparation of printed material. The deadline is November 15. Details are available from W. G. BENDER (personnel), local 221.

Places are still open for an IBM course to be given downtown from November 5 to 7. The course, called "Computer Concepts for Management," is designed for senior staff nominated by department heads and chairmen. Names should go immediately to MRS. D. ARCHER at 351-353. Arrangements for enrolment in a later session can be made if names are forwarded now.

PROFESSOR ALFRED LOFT (history), chairman of the faculty drive for the United Red Feather - Red Cross Appeal, reminds faculty to consider his recent letter on the subject, if they have not already done so. He hopes that the drive can be completed by November 4. Faculty contributions to date total $3,800, about 46 per cent of the goal. Others may still be made to the accounting office by direct payment or payroll deduction.

DRS. C. S. LEUNG, R. M. PEARCE, C. E. PICCIOTTO, and L. P. ROBERTSON are in Edmonton attending a meeting of research groups planning to use the proton beam that will be produced by TRIUMF, the cyclotron facility now being developed for Canada's West Coast.

Faculty/Staff News

DEAN M. H. SCARGILL (graduate studies and linguistics), as chairman of committee C on academic planning, has asked to hear from anyone wishing to give or receive information relating to the studies of three sub-committees. Brief on subjects indicated below should be addressed to MRS. LOIS LEWIS, room 4, Hut "K." Mrs. Lewis will arrange for writers to discuss their briefs with the appropriate sub-committee if they wish, or for members to hold explanatory sessions with interested groups.

Sub-committees and their terms of reference follow, with the names of faculty involved. Other representatives are drawn from student ranks and from Joint Faculties.

- 1) J. P. GRAFF (philosophy), DR. R. N. O'BRIEN (chemistry): compulsory courses, including English and languages; prerequisites; departmental autonomy in setting degree requirements.
- 2) DR. WILLIAM GOEDE (English), DEAN F. T. TYLER (education): design of programs and courses of study; experimental programs; the academic year.
- 3) DR. G. O. MACKIE (biology): evaluation.

DEAN R. R. JEFFELS (college and student affairs) has accepted an invitation from the Minister of National Defence to become the B. C. representative on the Canadian Military Colleges Advisory Board. The board assists the Minister in his duties as chancellor of the Royal Military College and president of the three colleges of the Canadian Services.

DR. G. O. MACKIE (biology) gave a recent seminar at Case Western Reserve University, Cleveland, on "Epithelial conduction in hydromedusae." He also contributed a lecture to the university's evolutionary neurology group.

Faculty/Staff News

Four "member trustees" are sought for the board administering the University pension plan, to be elected from and by the plan's active membership. DENNIS DAVIS (accounting), board secretary, will receive nominations until 5:00 p.m. November 7, on forms circulated last week. Extra forms and further details are available from his office in Hut "M".

SUB manager DICK CHUDLEY has completed plans for a charter flight to Britain next spring, sponsored by the Alma Mater Society. The plane will leave Victoria May 19, and return from London June 15. Return fare is $262. The offer is open to faculty, staff, students, and their immediate families. Application forms are on hand at the SUB.

DR. OTFRIED SPREEN (psychology) was elected Fellow of the American Psychological Association at its recent annual meeting.

Anyone on campus with orchestral aspirations is invited to contact DR. GERALD HENDRIE (music), who is now assessing the prospect of forming a University symphonic group of 70 to 80 players. The group is seen as primarily a rehearsal orchestra, though events may justify an occasional concert. Meanwhile, support would be welcomed for a small group that meets Sunday evenings under HUGH McLEAN.

The CBC sends word that DR. HENDRIE's recital over the FM network, mentioned in the last Newsletter, will not be heard locally until next week. It was broadcast October 30 east of the Rockies in the series, Organists in Recital. CBU-FM will rebroadcast it November 6, at 11:30 p.m.

The Faculty Women's Club will meet on Thursday, November 7 at 8:00 p.m. in the Faculty Centre. Mrs. Rosemary Wormald of Island Florists will demonstrate flower arrangements.
